FIGHTS TAX ON GIFT

Charity Its Purpose, Says Lawyer-Plan Too Vague, Replies State's Attorney.

BEQUEST RAISES ISSUE

The grounds on which the Rockecontention that it is a charitable or perception, and that accordngly all gifts made to the foundation re not subject to a tax. were set forth Surrogate Cohalan yesterday in the contest over the taxing of a bequest left by Mrs. Laura S. Rockefeller, wife of John D. Rockefeller.

State Comptroller Travis is appealing through his counsel, Schuyler C. Carlton, from the decision of the transfer tax appraiser, holding the share of her estate passing to the Rockefeller Foundation is not taxable. She left about $1,500,000, of which $425,519 went to the foundation. This is the amount the State

Mr. Carlton argued that the charter the foundation described its powers d duties. "I take it," said Mr. Cariton, "that the charter means that the foundation is to promote what Mr. Rock-efeller deems the welfare of mankind, nd nothing could be more broad."

Thinks Purposes Too Vague. He pointed out that under the char-

sed for the purposes of organizations ild not be exempt from a tax insisted that its surposes were too vague, covering "every branch of acwhich human ingenuity can think of, for the purpose of promoting what to the minds of its officers shall seem the well being of mankind throughout

Mr. Carlton said that among the or-ganizations aided by the foundation, as shown by its report, were the China Medical Board, the Bird Refuge in Louisiana, the International Health Commission, the Bureau of Social Hygiene, bodies investigating government problems, the Alta Social Settlement of Cleyeland and the Homes Association of New York. Bequests left directly to any of these organizations, he said, would be n had aided the Bird Refuge as part of its plan to promote the "welfare of mankind" Mr. Carlton added: "It

George Welwood Murray, attorney for Rockefeller estate, replied that the ige in question was not a shooting cerve. "This superb refuge." he said, is for regular migrating birds, they may rest, at the mouth of the Mis-sissippi. The object is to save the birds, who save the fields from the depredaions of rodents and insects. If the efuge had been established years ago would have meant a saving of milns of dollars a year in crops.

Mr. Carlton referred to the fact that only $210,000 was spent. To this Mr.
Murray replied that $1,000,000 was given to the Belgian Relief Fund last

Mr. Murray said that Mrs. Rockefeller's intention was to leave the bulk of her estate to charity. "At least that is what she tried to do," he said.
